BETTER LAWS FOR CARE AND COMMITMENT OF INSANE

One of the Aims of the Connecticut Society of Alienists-Dr. Pollock Chief Speaker.

Among those invited to enjoy the hospitality of Dr. H. H. Hitchcock of Greenwich at the quarterly meeting of the Connecticut Society of Alienists were Dr. H. M. Pollock, Costello Lippitt and Judge N. J. Ayling of this city. city.

Dr. Edwin S. Vail of Enfield read an interesting paper on the treatment of the mentally unbalanced "by suggestion."

Dr. Pollock Speaks.

Dr. H. M. Pollock, while one of the youngest members of the society, is one of its most earnest workers. Notwithstanding his age, he ranks among the first alienists of Connecticut, says the Bridgeport Standard, being now superintendent of the state hospital at Norwich.

When speaking about the society and what it hopes to accomplish, Dr. Pollock said:

"A few years ago a number of Con-nerticut physicians prominent in psy-chepathic work formed this society. Today it has upon its membership rolls the name of every physician con-nected with every public and private institution in the state for the care of mental and nervous diseases. It hopes to encourage the discussion and pro-mulgation of scientific principles and the adoption and application of the most approved methods for the care and restoration of those nervously unbalanced, whether in the incipient or advanced stages.

Hope for Better Laws.

"While the aims of the society are largely philanthropic, there is a business end to the matter. We hope to have better laws passed governing the care and commitment of the insane and incompetent, and more money appropriated for their cure and support. "These unfortunates, like the poor, are always with us; but a large percentage of the insane are not where they should be. The etigma of the old poorhouse system for caring for the unbalanced still remains, and many families are afraid to send their dear ones to institutions where they can tor, took his place. The work of the society for the past season was reviewed and plans for the coming season were discussed. Encouraging words and some splendid advice were given to the new officers by Mr. Downes, who believed that the prospects for continued good work under the new president, James M. Murphy, were most encouraging.

The newly elected president accepted his office with a few well chosen words befitting the occasion.

Edward J. Sweeney, who had been elected a member of the board of directors, resigned this position, as he expects soon to go to New Hampshire for the summer. Dr. Edward J. Brophy was elected to his place. ones to institutions where they can have rational and scientific treatment, They sacrifice their own lives by keep-

Crime That Degenerates Are at Large.

"Another class of patients are the dangerous lunatics like Thaw, Dennison, Charlton and the foreigner who shot Policeman Deitz in Bridgeport. It is a crime that such degenerates should be kept at large. So much has been written about the care of the insans to prejudice the public against sanitarium and institutional life that it is difficult to get their guardians to send them to us for treatment. However, conditions are changing, and in a few years the insane will have every chance for treatment, and those in charge of the unbalanced will recognize not only their responsibilirecognize not only their responsibili-ties toward their wards, but to the public at large."

STATE TRADE SCHOOL OPEN AT NEW BRITAIN.

Pupils Can Attend from Any Part of the State.

The state board of education is sending out notices regaring the state trade school at New Britain, where the opportunity is offered for a trade eudcation. The notice reads as fol-

The following trades will be taught: The following trades will be taught: Machine work, tool making, die making, darpentry.

With each trade instruction will be given in mechanical drawing, shop mathematics, shop English, business methods of the trade, sources of material and the process of preparation. It is expected that each trade will require about two years' work, o'Yung and immature pupils may require a longer time. Older pupils may be able to finish the work in less than two years.

Pupils from any part of the state may attend the school. All instruc-tion and materials are free, but pupils must furnish their own drawing in-struments. These will cost about $4. enter the day classes a pupil be at least 14 years of age and

The runabout was towed to a garage for repairs by using a small truck to take the place of the lest wheel.

The school for instruction for officers of the U. S. Marine corps opened Thursday morning at the new marine barracks, Navy Yard, Groton.

About 50 enlisted men and officers are now there. Some arrived Wednesday evening and some Thursday morning. More are to come and there will be about 90 in all. They come from New York, Washington and Boston.

The enlisted men are there to be used in instructing the officers. It is necessary of course to instruct the officers in drilling commands and these enlisted men are used as companies.

Several of the freight boats are available, but could not be used for avaliable, but could not be used for that purpose. Passengers who come to New London to go to Watch Hill or Block Island are being referred by the railroad employes to Westerly trains. Trolley cars run from Westerly to Watch Hill and a steamer leaves Watch Hill daily at 2.30 p. m. for Block Island.

RAIN WAS PARTIAL. Montville Received It for Fifteen Minutes in Good Shape.

Montville got its full share of the rainstorm on Wednesday afternoon, more rain falling there than either towards New London or Norwich. There was none here, though at Norwich Town it rained for about ten minutes. The storm broke about 2,30 p. m. and for lifteen minutes one of the heavlest downpours of rain experienced this summer was received. A second shower happened along five minutes after the first and this kept up steadily for about the same length of time. The first shower was so heavy that in several places it came too fast to sink into the ground and a few washouts were noticed afterwards along the roads.
